

JEWISH WARSAW

MONUMENTS AND HERITAGE SITES

A Synagogue at the Rotblit's House 50/52 Targowa Street, 03-733 Warsaw

The present location of the Museum of Warsaw's Prague used to house, among others, a prayer house and prior to that a Jewish primary school. Fragments of preserved polychrome depicting signs of Zodiac, the Wailing Wall and Rachel's Tomb are on display inside.

B Mikveh 31 Kłopotowskiego Street, 03-720 Warsaw

Erected in 1913 as part of the Jewish community building complex adjacent to the so-called Round Synagogue in the Prague district. Some elements of the original interior design have been preserved until today, such as floors and marble stairs. After 1945 the office of the Central Committee of Jews in Poland was located here.

C Pre-war Nalewki Street Bohaterów Getta Street, Warsaw

One of the most vital streets of pre-war Jewish Warsaw. Only the original cobblestone, tram lines and the Arsenal building have been preserved. Today Nalewki Street is a small street in the Muranów district, nothing like its famous pre-war predecessor.

D Central Judaic Library at the Great Synagogue 3/5 Tłomackie Street, 00-090 Warsaw

Erected in 1936, the building housed a collection of the adjacent Great Synagogue. The largest of all synagogues in pre-war Poland was destroyed on 16 May 1943. There are marks left by the fire caused by explosion on the library floor, today the location of the Jewish Historical Institute.

E Former Bersons' and Baumans' Children Hospital 60 Sienna/55 Śliska Street, 00-825 Warsaw

Hospital for Jewish children built in the years 1876-1878. Prior to World War I, Janusz Korczak was an employee there. After the war the reconstructed building housed offices of the Central Committee of Jews in Poland, and subsequently a municipal children isolation hospital.

F Janusz Korczak Children's Home 6 Jaktorowska Street, 01-202 Warsaw

The orphanage managed by Janusz Korczak since 1912. After the ghetto had been established, it was moved to 33 Chłódna Street, and later to 16 Sienna Street. It is from there that the children, together with their carers, were taken to the death camp in Treblinka.

G Michał Bergson Educational Establishment of the Warsaw Jewish Community 28 Jagiellońska Street, 03-719 Warsaw

Building erected in the years 1911-1914 on the initiative of Michał Bergson, chairman of the Jewish Community, great-grandson of Szmul Zbytkower, according to Henryk Stifelman's design. It housed a school, a nursery, an orphanage for Jewish children and a prayer house.

H Preserved fragment of the ghetto wall at 55 Sienna Street 55 Sienna Street (entrance from 62 Ziłota Street), 00-825 Warsaw

I Jewish Students' Home 7 Sierakowskiego Street, 03-716 Warsaw

Jewish Students' House was built in 1926 and accommodated up to 300 residents. Menachem Begin, student of law at the Warsaw University, future Prime Minister of the State of Israel and laureate of the Nobel Peace Prize, used to live here.

J Footbridge over Chłódna Street 22 Chłódna Street, 00-891 Warsaw

Location of the wooden footbridge erected in January 1942 to connect the Small and Large Ghettoes.

K 'Under the Clock' Tenement House 20 Chłódna Street, 00-891 Warsaw

The building in which Adam Czerniaków, head of the Warsaw Judenrat, resided at the end of January 1941.

L Umschlagplatz 10 Stawki Street, 00-178 Warsaw

Since 22 July 1942, the site of daily deportations of approximately 5-6 thousand Jews from the ghetto to the German Nazi death camp in Treblinka. In 1988 a monument designed by Hanna Szmalenberg and Władysław Klamerus was erected there.

The monument depicts 448 names - from Abel to Żanna - symbolizing ca. 450 thousand Jews imprisoned in the Warsaw Ghetto.

M Bunker on Miła Street Corner of Miła and Dubois Streets, Warsaw

The location of a bunker at 18 Miła Street, headquarters of the Jewish Combat Organization. On 8 May 1943, having been discovered by German troops, majority of the insurgents hiding in the bunker, including Mordechai Anielewicz, committed suicide. In 1946, a burial mound was formed at the ruins of the demolished house and a memorial stone was placed at the spot to commemorate the tragic events.

N Memorial of the Evacuation of the Warsaw Ghetto Fighters 51 Prosta Street, 00-838 Warsaw

Memorial at the entrance to the sewers through which several dozen insurgents from the Warsaw Ghetto escaped on 10 May 1943, amongst them Simcha 'Kazik' Ratajzer-Rotem and Marek Edelman.

O Monument to the Warsaw Ghetto Heroes Zamenhofa Street, Warsaw

Monument authored by Leon Marek Suzin (design) and Nathan Rappaport (sculpture). It was unveiled on 19 April 1948 on the 5th anniversary of the outbreak of the Warsaw Ghetto Uprising. The western panel of the monument depicts the ghetto fighters in combat; the eastern panel commemorates martyrdom of innocent victims. The older monument, dating from 1946, is located nearby, shaped as a manhole on a low stone pedestal.

P Monument of Jews and Poles Common Martyrdom in Warsaw 21 Gibalskiego Street, 01-190 Warsaw

Monument at the site of a mass grave of Poles and Jews and the execution site after the liquidation of the ghetto and during the Warsaw Uprising. Today location of a monument from 1989 commemorating Jews and Poles murdered during World War II.

R Gęsiówka 34 Anielewicz Street, 01-052 Warsaw

Central detention centre of the Warsaw Ghetto, since August 1943 a German Nazi concentration camp (sub-camp of Majdanek), referred to as 'Gęsiówka' due to its location on Gęsia Street. The camp was liberated by the 'Żośka' Battalion soldiers of the Home Army.

S The Żabińskis' Villa at the Warsaw Zoological Garden 1/3 Ratuszowa Street, 03-461 Warsaw

the Warsaw Zoo, together with his wife Antonina, hid Jews. The Żabińskis were awarded the Righteous Among the Nations medals in 1965.
